

NextiraOne Achieves Cisco Managed Services Master Certification

NextiraOne Recognised as Having Highest Levels of Expertise in Developing and Delivering Managed Services

Paris, 20 May, 2010 – NextiraOne, Europe’s leading expert in communications services, has today announced that it has achieved the Managed Services Master Certification from Cisco. This certification recognises NextiraOne’s investment in the managed service ITIL® processes, practices and tools necessary to provide high quality managed services.

Neil Moss, European Marketing Director of NextiraOne, said: “Cisco is a strategic partner and we share a commitment and approach to delivering high quality managed services for our customers wherever they are in the world. This latest recognition is a testament to our expertise delivering managed services through our Cisco-certified experts and our European network operating centre.”

As a Cisco Managed Services Master Certified Partner, NextiraOne has demonstrated its ability to deliver sophisticated solutions, met stringent requirements that reflect a depth of capabilities, and undergone an independent audit by an objective third party auditor. NextiraOne was also required to offer at least two managed services using the resources and procedures necessary to deploy, manage and support Cisco solutions.

“NextiraOne’s investment in Cisco Managed Services Master Certification ranks it among an elite group of channel partners with the resources to deploy, manage and support services for multiple technologies,” said Edison Peres, senior vice president of the worldwide channels go-to-market group at Cisco.

In addition NextiraOne has achieved Cisco-Powered managed service designations in Cisco Powered Managed Security and Cisco Powered Managed Unified Communications. Cisco Powered managed service designations acknowledge that a managed service provider has invested in industry-leading Cisco architectures and that its services have met the highest Cisco user-experience standards.

NextiraOne has a strong, long-standing relationship with Cisco and has been a Cisco channel partner since 1992. NextiraOne's ongoing success as a Cisco Managed Services Master Channel Partner follows the recent announcement that the company had again achieved Cisco Channel Customer Satisfaction Excellence in the United Kingdom, joining five other countries across Europe in maintaining this status. The company is a Cisco Gold Certified Partner in 12 countries and has Advanced Specialisations in Unified Communications, Wireless LAN, Security, Routing and Switching, Data Centre Networking Infrastructure, Data Centre Storage Networking and TelePresence.

Cisco Powered managed service designations acknowledge that a managed service providers has invested in industry-leading Cisco architectures and that its services have met the highest Cisco user-experience standards.
