

About us

With a direct sales and service presence in 15 countries and serving more than 60,000 customers including many of the world's foremost international businesses, NextiraOne is Europe's leading expert in communications services.

We design, install, maintain and support sustainable solutions to meet all of your communications needs - from Contact Centre solutions to Unified Communications, Data Centres and Managed Services, delivering mobile, secure and sustainable infrastructures for voice, data and video communications.

We provide end-to-end communications solutions working with the world's leading technology companies to deliver maximum business benefits to our customers.

- Company overview - Our history and what we are today
- Vision, mission and values - A clear vision of our role in the future of our industry
- Management - A world class management team
- Locations - NextiraOne's sales and services coverage across Europe
- Jobs and Careers - 100% committed to ensuring our expert status