

Infrastructure

Scalable and adaptable - infrastructure for your growing business

Pressure on company networks has never been greater than it is today thanks to the latest video and communications applications. Unified Communications infrastructures need to offer immediate access to communication tools and information regardless of time or location.

NextiraOne delivers scalable infrastructures and communication platforms for any size of business. Our Unified solutions support voice, video, data communications based on an intelligent and robust infrastructure. Comprehensive management tools, integrated security and proven reliability ensure the Quality of Service (QoS) which is indispensable for critical commercial processes.